

Are you ready to:
speak effectively
hold listener attention master your material move past the fear and convey your message...

...feeling PREPARED,
POLISHED, and POWERFUL
to achieve greater success in all that you do?

Then we're ready to get you there!

Milo Shapiro

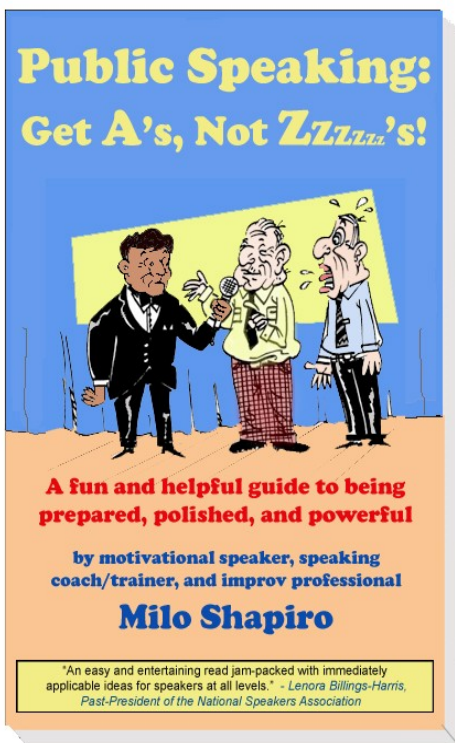

Public Speaking Skills Coach

"Fear of public speaking is not a phobia for most people. It's a totally rational response to being asked to do something you haven't been trained to do. Don't work on the fear; learn to create great material and speak well. Then watch the fear turn into excitement!" - Milo Shapiro

Classes are never geared to what YOU most need to learn. Toastmasters is great, but a slow way to learn and rarely give you much chance to practice the material you plan to give outside Toastmasters. Coaching is all about getting you where you want to be – fast and effectively.

Since 2004, Milo has worked with hundreds of people, helping them reach their goal to be "Prepared, Polished, and Powerful" every time they speak.

From engineers to lawyers, from CEOs to sales reps, from architects to soldiers, Milo helps you shine in front of your audience – be it nine or nine hundred.

Milo ties together solid speaking fundamentals with his 20+ years as an improv performer to enliven your speaking abilities, just as he does in the fun, improv-based keynote speeches and team building events shown on his website.

"Milo, you took me from fear in speaking to my co-workers to delivering powerfully and confidently to admirals, congressmen, and White House staff. Our coaching together changed the trajectory of my career. Thank you!!!"

- Ellen Motoi,
U.S. Coast Guard
